

Fabulous location but not as fancy as I expected.

The Manhattan Hotel, New York, USA

The room was not as luxurious as I was expecting. We've stayed in many nicer resorts. It was nice and the location is fabulous. You can walk to many New York landmarks. There were a couple of minor maintenance issues that needed attention. The front desk employees were more helpful than the concierge. I would stay there again because of the location. There was a breakfast available on site, but it seemed very pricey for what was offered. There were several good restaurants close by that the front desk directed us to.
